BROOKLYN AFTER BOSTON. WARD'S MEN IN HOT PURSUIT OF THE CHAMPIONS.

Brooklyn, Beston, and Baltimere Wen Two Sames Each - Philadelphia and Louis-ville Satisfied with One Victory-New York and Circladati Broke Even.

The Brooklyns are spurting after the Bostons in a way to make Selec's men feel uneasy. If Ward's men can manage to head the Bostons before the Western trip begins on July 1 the chances for the team across the bridge are good. Cincinnati now appears to be the only dangerous Western club, for unless Apaon takes a sudden brace he will be out of it. The New Yorks will give the leaders some hard tumbles before July 13. NEW YORK WON AND LOST.

The New Yorks played a very poor game of bail vesterday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock and were beaten. Later in the afternoon they put up a game hard to excel in the matter of sharp fielding, good battery werk and timely hitting. The result was a yestory. Crane pitched a fine game, but his support was of a sort that makes local rooters grind their teeth and refer to the blayers in uncomplimentary terms. The batting of Ewing and Richardson, and the skyrocket one-handed catch by O'Rourke of Latham's ugly line drive to left when two men were on bases and two cut, were the only bright features of the first game. The work of Gore, Fuller, and Bassett was saddening. Gore's inexcusable must gave the Cincinnatis a run in the first. McPhee had opened with a base hit, and then Gore musted Latham's easy fly. O'Neill's sacrifice sent McPhee to second, and on Holliday's sacrifice fly to O'Rourke McPhee scored. Latham tried to take third on Halligan's fly, but was nicely thrown out by O'Rourke, and McPhee, who had run from third to the plate very leisurely, had not reached the rubber when Latham was touched out. Lynch was not watching the plate and permitted the run to score. The New Yorks tied the score in the second, getting in a run on Lyons's base on balls, Ewing's hard drive to right for two bases and Richardson's long sacrifice fly to centre.

The third inning developed a succession of harrowing errors by the New Yorks and the resultant presentation of the game to Comiskey, Murphy started with a triple to right centre. Mullane hit an easy one to Bassett, and Murphy would have been out had not Hassett made a wide throw to the plate. Possibly had Fields shown more activity he might have touched the runner, but the fact remains that the ball was thrown wide and was caught and held. Mullane stole second and McPhee was sent to first on balls. Latham's grounder put McPhee out at second, but Latham scored on the play. Browning hit for two bases, and Comiskey med the agony with a fiyle O'Neill's double. Ewing's mult of a throw to first, two stolen bases, and Browning's single gave two runs.

Rusie got into the box for New York when play was called for the second game, and he pitched as though he had not entirely forgotten the art of deceiving batemen. The New Yorks shook off the lethargy that hung over them in the first game, and gave Rusis support that would have won Crane's game. Their play was sharp and close, only one error being charged against them. That was made by Murphy in ithe fourth inning. It was a high throw to third, the object being to catch Latham, who had opened the inning with a three-baser. Latham scored, but as O'Neill, who was next at hat, hit for two bases the error reality cost nothing. O'Neill tried to create the impression that his double was a triple, but Gore, Bassett, and Lyons convinced him of his error. The next two batsmen were retired, and that was the last scoring done by the Bed Legs.

d Legs. Duryea was very steady except in the fourth Duryea was very steady except in the fourth inning, when, with O'Rourke out at first, he sent Lyons, Ewing, and Richardson to first on balls. Then when Bassett forced Richardson out at second, Lyons came home. Murphy ended the inning by going out at first. It was in the seventh that the New Yorks scored the winning run. Two men were out when Gore came up and hit to right for a base. Fuller smashed a grounder that carromed off Duryea's fingers and rolled away, all hands being safe. O'Hourke hammered a safe one past third, and Gore tramped home with the winning run. Lyons was hit by a pitched ball, and when Buck Ewing came up and rubbed sand on his bat, there was a general yell. Buck hit a high fly to right, and the game was practically at an end, as the sides went out quickly in the remaining innings. The scores:

NEW YORK, 2; CINCINNATI, 1-SECOND GAME.

TWO VICTORIES FOR BROOKLYN.

The Brooklyns bettered their position yesterday afternoon by taking two games from the littsburghers. Both games proved extremely interesting to the 2,364 cranks present, and they rooted oftener and louder than they have done before this season. In the first game the fleding by the home team was remarkably good. They made two double-plays, while O'Brien made a great catch in the sixth inning. At the outset of the contest Ward gave the crowd an intimation of how the Brooklyns would bat. With three balls called he sent the sphere to right centre for a home run. home run. the second inning Smith was bit safely for a home run.

In the second inning Smith was bit safely five times. Corcoran singled along the first base line and O'brien hit past third base. Dailey sacrificed. Haddock is hit to centre gave Corcoran a run. Haddock was run out between first and second. Ward hit to short between first and second. Ward hit to short held and beat the hall to first. O'brien for him home on the hit. In the third hining Burns struck out. Griffin went to first on balls, but Mack threw him out at second. Corcoran got his base on balls, but O'Brien struck out. Smith gave Pittsburgh some hope by knecking out at two bagger to right. Mard fumiled Miller's hit and Smith reached third. Hieraburgh it to Ward and was thrown out at first. Miller was held near first and was subsequently run out, but Smith got home.

Brooklyn scored the runs which won the first on balls. Haddock sacrificed. Ward's sligle sent Dailey home. Ward went to second on the throw in, and stole third. He came home an a wild pitch. Pittsburgh tried hard to oversome the Brooklyn's lead. Smith revived their hopes with a neat single to right. Miller got a base on balls. Ward's error let in Basth. Miller reached home on an error by Brouthers.

Sinith Miller reached home on an error by Brouthers.

Heven innings were required to decide the second contest. Hart and Tom Daly went in as the Brooklyn battery. The Pittsburghs changed around somewhat Miller went behind the bat and Smith took his place in right field. Baldwin was substituted for Smith. He pitched a winning game, but at the critical moment when a run for the opponents meant victory he was not properly supported. Hart was hit in the first inning for two singles. These, with an error by Brouthers, netted a run. In the second inning a single, a base on bails, a sacrifice, and another single added two more runs to littsburgh's score. Then Stein went in to pitch, and the visitors could not touch him, getting only two hits, while since of hem struck out.

The Brooklyns made a run, in the fourth on base on balls, a single, and Corknill's fum-bla. In the ninth their runs were made on Burna's error. Corcoran's single, which brought in a run, and O'Brien's sacrifice, which sent in Griffin with the tying run.

Griffin and Corcoran got their bases on balls in the eleventh. A wild throw by Baldwin gave Griffin third. Daly flew out to Farrell, who threw wild to the plate to catch Griffin, and the runner crossed the plate. The scores: BROOKLYN, 5; PITTERURGH, 4-FIRST GAME,

CHAMPION IVES IN TOWN.

He Sails To-day With His Wife to Pill a Big Engagement in Paris.

Champion Frank Ives got to this city just before midnight on Thursday, having been delayed by the Pough-keepsie landslide. He was accompanied by his wife, Dair's Broadway billiard room, and gave him a royal welcome. The champion played Chinese billiards, a queergame of two-ball carroms, with Mr. H. F. Tree-scher and Amateur Hendricks, and watched Prof. scher and Amateur Hendricka, and watched Frof.
Kaarlins execute his trick fancy shots. The champon then played some trick shots of his own. He will sail for France on La Bourgoone this morning. Daly gave him a complimentary dunner last night, and there was a reception afterward at the billiard pariors. A crowd went down to the pier after midnight to send him and the emblem on board in nitting style.

"I am going abroad to play billiarits for eight weeks at $3500 a week sailary." Ives said; "the money has been deposited in a Paris bank, so that I am sure of getting fit." getting it.

Ives was sorry to hear that Sosson had abandoned his plan of going to Paris, too. He says that he did not know to a certainty whether Schaefer and catton would go to France or not. It was supposed that Schaefer and Catton would sail on the same steamer with Ives, but the exchampion down't seem to be in a hurry. Dick Roche, Schaefer's old backer, was in Daly's Thursday night. Ives said that Mr. Roche told him that he would be: $2.0010 $2.500 that he would succeed in holding the emblem in the coming match with Schaefer. Ives uxed Paris as the playing ground.

Wheelmen to Start in To-day. The wheelmen's spring racing circuit opens to-day at Rirkwood Park, Syracuse, under the auspices of the Century Cycling Club. Nine races will be run, including the one-mile safety L. A. W. State championship and a novel contest in the form of a fourth of a mile safety handicap for one-legged riders. Entered for this race are W. McMartin of the Press Cycling Club of Buffalo and F. L. Beadelson of the Century Club of Syracuse. The former rides with the assistance of an artificial leg, while Beadleson pedals with only one leg. On this account the Buffalo man concedes his rival sixty yards. The winner will probably challenge any one-legged rider in the country to ride at the national meet in Washington next month. From Syracuse the racing men will go to Corliand on Monday and to Rochester on Thursday, winding up the circuit by racing on Friday and saturday at Buffalo.

The initial team race of the new Progressive Team Racing League will be held at the grounds of the Staten Island Athletic Club today. Six clubs will compete.

GARRISON AND MADSTONE.

THIS COMBINATION WAS TOO MUCH FOR JOCKEY HAMILTON.

Mr. Foxball Reene's Tournament Beater in the Toboggan Silde Handless by Poor Jockevahlp-Kennebee Wins the Bay chester Stakes-The Talent Win Heavily on Miles Standish, Rex, and Cynosure-Mendiennt Defeats Raindrop,

Those who went to Morris l'ark yesterday had something to talk about. Madstone win ning the Toboggan Slide Handicap after Ham-Ilton on Tournament attempted to take liber ties with Garrison, who had the mount on Mr. Dahlman's horse. Tournament was making his first appearance in almost a year, and Mr. Keene and his friends thought the brown horse would win handly, as he had worked very fast. The son of Sir Modred was in the pink of condition, and he should have won The story of the race in detail is told further on. The other stake feature of the day, the Baychester, for three-year-olds, was won by Mr. Cushman's handsome colt Kennebec, or whom Fitzpatrick rode an admirable race. waiting until the last moment before calling upon the son of Spendthrift and Kalula. The Toboggan Slide was the third event on the programme, and it promised to be a great betting event. Russell, with his known fondness for mud, had a great many supporters, while Fairy and Madstone were not neglected. Garrison's having the mount on Madstone made many friends for Mr. Dahlman's horse. When Tournament warmed up he was a wild horse, and the boy had all he could do to keep the brown horse from running away. In the paddock a great crowd gathered about the brown horse and he was greatly admired. There was very little delay at the post, the start being prompt and good. Tournament, Fairy, and Wah Jim were in the front rank when the flag fell, and Hamilton crossed the track from the outside to the extreme inside thereby losing more than two lengths of very valuable ground. Tournament had so much speed, though, that he was able to keep the lead, and at the end of the first quarter of a mile he looked like the surest of winners. Hamilton was looking around at the others, Fairy. Russell, Wah Jim, and Madstone heading the ruck. A quarter of a mile from home Tournament had the race at his mercy, Madstone Fairy, and Russell catching the whip. Hamilton turned half way around in the saddle and laughed at Garrison's exertions on Madstone. He took a slight pull on Tournament, and Gar rison, who never knows when he is beaten. called on Madstone for an extra effort. A furlong from home Tournament began to hang fire, and Hamilton realized that he had caught a tartar, as Garrison was coming for him like a cyclone. He attempted to get Tournament going again, but Madstone drew away and won by a length. Russell was a fair third. Hamilton's riding of Tournament was condemned, while Garrison's masterly handling of Madstone was the subject of the most flattering comment. This young man's work in the saddle this year shows that he is riding as he never rode before, and the public can rest assured that they will get his best efforts every time he accepts a mount.

There is a yery pretty story in connection with the Madstone—Tournament race that gives a spice to the finish, and shows that the result must have been gratifying to Garrison. On Thursday it was thought that Mr. Lorillard would start Locchatchee in the Toboggan Side, and that he would need Hamilton's services. Mr. Keene asked Garrison if he would ride Tournament in case Hamilton, on whom he had second call, would be wanted by Mr. Lorillard. Garrison said that he would be glad to ride Tournament, and thought that he could win with him. That same evening Mr. Lorillard decided not to start Locchatchee, and Mr. Keene told Garrison that his services would not be required. The Snapper then engaged to ride Madstone. When he went to dress for the race yesterday he found Mr. Keene's colors in his box. He'took them to Hamilton, saying:

With Roller out of the Baychester Stakes, the public backed Kennebec, Kilkenny. The Ironmaster, Entré, and Hamilton, their weight of money sending Kennebec to the post favorite. St. Anthony and Best Brand made the running up the backstretch and around the upper turn, Kennebec showing the most prominently of the others, while Hamilton was absolutely last. In the homestretch Fitzpatrick gradually worked Kennebec to the post, and tackling St. Anthony at the furlong pole, took the lead, St. Anthony, however, came on again under the whip, while a new danger appeared in Entré, on whom Taral was riding desperately. Fitzpatrick gave Kennebec a smart cut of the whip, and going on about his business, he won with a trifle to spare. St. Anthony, under the whip, leat Entré for the place by a narrow margin. Kilkenny and The Ironmaster were close up.

Miles Standish was a propounced favorite narrow margin. Riskenny and The Ironmaster were close up.

Miles Standish was a pronounced favorite for the opening race, a scramble for two-year-olds at five furiones. Taral indulged Prince George and Mendacity with the lead until a furiong from home, where he cut loose with the handsome son of Longfellow, and won in a gallop. Prince George, under the whip, stayed long enough to beat Courtship a neek for second place. Sir Richard ran woll for half a mile.

stayed long enough to beat Courtship a neck for second place. Sir Richard ran well for half a mile.

The public could see nothing but Rex in the second race, for three-year-olds at a mile, and when the bookmakers laid the surprisingly good olds of even money they swooped down upon the ring and played the little colt very heavily. Fidelio's family do not like the mud, and the was let severely alone by those familiar with racing in America during the last decade. Major Covington let Fidelio and Julien make the running until opposite the free field, at which point he sent lex along, and it was no race, the little son of Leonatus winning in a romp. Julien beat Fidelio half a dozen lengths for second money.

Raindrop beat Mendicant with such ease when they last met that the talent regarded the half sister to Drizzle as a sure thing for the fifth race, and, flushed by their successes in previous races, they plunged on the filly, on whom Taral had the mount. After the race they wished they had kept their money in their pockets, as Mendicant and Lisely both beat the favorite, the former winning with considerable to spare. Raindrop did not run up to her form, and it is more than likely that she does not reliesh heavy going. Dr. Street was jubilant after the race.

Cynosure, Geltysburg, and Kirkover were equal favorites for the concluding race, a selling event at one mile and a sixteenth. War Duke and Kirkover as far for second money. Cynosure was entered to be sold for $700, and it cost his owner. W. C Daly, $305 over that flagre to keep the son of Tom Ochiltree and Cyclone in his stable.

ENTRIES FOR MORRIS PARK. The Crack Two-year-olds to Meet in the

The Great[Eclipse Stakes promises to be one of the best two-year-old races of the year, and 30,000 persons should go to Morris Park today to see the crack youngsters contest for the $20,000 prize. In addition to the Great Eclipse Stakes, St. Florian, Locohatchee, and other good three-year-olds are named to start in the Bowling Brook Handicap, while the rejuve-nated Tenny will make his first bow to the public this year in the second race at a mile and a quarter.

Don Alongo and Dan Rice have worked well for the Great Eclipse, and the public will un-doubtedly make them the favorites for the race. Dr. Rice has an unbeaten record, and Mr. Ehret thinks that Don Alonzo should have won all his races, the big celt not being at home on a circular course. He will be on his native heath, so to speak, to-day, and with Murphy as his pilot the celt that beats him will win the money. Shelley Tuttle's form does not warrant his having a chance, but Sir Walter, with Snapper Garrison as his pilot, will be backed by shrewd men to repeat his Gravesend performance when the son of Midlothian won the Great American from a big field. Mr. Keene's big colt by St. Blaise, out of Beliadonna, may be a clinker, but he has not raced yet. The same is true of Mr. John Hunter's Tremont colt Chicago. Both are handsome, racy-looking, and they have worked well. Frieze is entitled to the utmost respect, as he is improving every time he starts, and if the track is dry and fast, he must not be overlooked. Freemason, his stable companion, a few days ago showed conclusively that he possesses speed of no mean order. Reginald has been well tried, and Donovan demonstrated that he is a good colt by the way he hung on to Sir Francis in the Larchmont Stakes on Thursday. The Reaper, the crack two-year-old of the West, only arrived at Morris Park on Thursday ovening, and it is thought that the railway journey cooked his chances. The race should be full of interest. won all his races, the big colt not being at ris Park on Thursday ovening, and it is thought that the railway journey cooked his chances. The race should be full of interest.

St. Florian and Locohatchee should make the Bowling Brook Handicap interesting, with Nomad and Mars as dangerous commodities. Zorling may do to support for the opening race, and Gold Dollar may run second. Strathmeath is in good shape, and if Tenny's legs trouble the old swayback Mr. Morris's little gelding will win. If Zorling is saved for the last race she should win hands down, with Julio second.

"Here are your colors, Andy, I don't ride Tournament."

Hamilton refused to put on the colors, and Mr. Keene had to talk to the boy for some time before he would consent to ride. Jockeys are as realous as singers, but Hamilton was finally convinced that he was not being neglected for the Sampper, and he donned the white with blue spots. When he thought he had the race won he turned to gleat over the Sampper. It nettled Garrison, and "Humpy Dan," as the boys call him, rode as he never rode before. It certainly looked as though Tournament would have won handily if Hamilton had gone on about his business. He lost the race when he crossed the track and he lost it again when he took a pull on Tournament and turned to laugh at Garrison. Everybody regrets for Mr.
Keene's sake that Tournament did not win, as he is a game young sportsman.

ALBANY, June 10.-The sixth meeting of the Southeastern Trotting Circuit ended at Island Park this afternoon. Again the favorites outclassed the field and six heats closed up the card. It was a favorable day for speed, and Village Farm bore off the honors with Play Boy in the 2:20 class and Hal Pointer in a successful attempt to lower the track record. Geers had little confidence in the pacer after his failure at New York, but he was steady and stepped a mile in 2:13% without any urg ing. but was Overruled. LONDON, June 10 .- The race for the Manchester Cup Handicap to-day was won by Mr. Maple's four-year-old brown colt Balmoral, by Hampton, out of Kate Craig. This borse was formerly known as North Berwick, and was third in the race for the City of London Breeders' Stakes last year, when Mr. L. de Roths child's Bumptious was first and the Duke of child's Bumptious was first and the Duke of Westminster's Orion second. Mr. W. R. Marshall's four-year-old chestnut colt The Hudson was second to-day, and the four-year-old brown colt Enniskillen was third. The Hudson won the Hambleton Handleap Plate at Listowel last year, and was a favorito for the race to-day.

An objection has been lodged against Balmoral for bumping, and the cup will not be awarded until the objection is decided. The victory of Balmoral caused considerable surprise.

The race was at one mile and three-quarters and 11st yards. The objection against Balmoral was overruled, and he has been awarded the cup.
